About me

I was once a city girl and interior designer. I grew up in Sydney's Eastern Suburbs dreaming of a country way of life...of gardens and baskets filled with vegetables and flowers, a kitchen filled with delicious food and muddy boots at the door. My dreams took me to the UK where I studied interior design in London. (Well... gardens do need houses attached and I do equally love houses!). I worked and lived in London for several years, where I also met and married Larry, who promptly brought me back to Australia. Arriving at Glenmore just two years into our marriage changed our lives completely and gave me the opportunity, in time, to pursue those long-held dreams.

About Glenmore House

At Glenmore House I run workshops and events on an intimate scale...idyllic days in the country...where you can learn, dream, eat and be inspired. The concept grew from my own desire to learn how to grow seasonal, organic produce for my family; initiating the concept in 2009 that was 'Kitchen Gardening at Glenmore House'. It has since expanded to include a multitude of topics close to my heart and imagination...allowing me to invite a range of experts in their field, broadening the scope of what the garden here has to share with the wider community.

Originally, it was my interior design business that I ran here from the Barn, which opened (post restoration) in 1993. That aspect of the business grew from my love of creating beautiful domestic lives and interiors for others (which I still do...but only for old clients and dear friends!).

Why Glenmore?

That's a very good question! It wasn't planned...but our lives took a little detour via Glenmore almost 35 years ago...and I guess you could say we put down very deep roots. Now, I can't imagine living anywhere else on earth.

Sneak peek

I'm about to introduce a new series of workshops integrating the 'Field of Flowers'. Following on from the introduction of Botanical Waters, this is a project that's been long in the making and bringing it to fruition...to see the joy on the faces of participants... will be a lovely achievement. The days will be about pure immersion in colour and scent and I hope to see interest in this intoxicating aspect equal the interest in kitchen gardening these last 14 years. I also intend to introduce the collection of recently planted local, aromatic indigenous plants into this next phase as a point of interest to the local (and wider) community.

Favourite Dilly town

Picton...for its charming architecture and surrounding landscape.

A must see in the Dilly

The Burragorang Lookout...is breathtakingly beautiful. The scale of the view is overwhelming and in such contrast to the landscape one travels en route to get there. It never fails to surprise and I love when it's so quiet and empty you could hear a pin drop.

HISTORIC DILLY

This daytrip is for those who love the history of places, stories from our past, great architecture and engineering feats.

As one of Australia's early pioneering regions, the Dilly has railway heritage, stories of early settlers, and surprising discoveries. If you love history, you'll find your something on this historic daytrip. Just skip a few stops and come back for a second daytrip or why not overnight. You're always welcome in the Dilly.

1. Cataract Dam

Cataract Dam is one of the oldest and most picturesque dams in Sydney, famous for its beautiful castle-like architecture. At the time of its construction from 1902 to 1907, Cataract Dam was one of the biggest engineering projects in Australia and the fourth biggest in the world.

2. Appin Massacre Memorial

The Appin Massacre Memorial commemorates the Dharawal people tragically killed by colonial soldiers in the massacre of 1816.

3. Appin Inn & Appin Historical Society Inc Australia

Opened in 1827, Appin Inn is now the headquarters of the Appin Historical Society run by local historians and volunteers. The inn, opened in 1827 by William Sykes, was an important stopping point for travellers making the arduous journey by horse between Wollongong and Sydney.

4. St Bede's Catholic Church Appin

Opened in 1843, St Bede's Catholic Church is the oldest Catholic church in continuous use on the Australian mainland. Wander around the grounds and discover the many historic headstones.

5. Stonequarry Creek Railway Viaduct

Built 1863 to 1867, this is the oldest existing stone viaduct in NSW and the second oldest in the country. The Viaduct crosses an 84m wide gorge with sandstone arches that rise 12.2 metres above the creek. Despite being 160 years old, it's still in use today.

6. St Mark's Anglican Church & Pioneer Cemetery

Opened in 1856, this beautifully quaint church sits surrounded by the Pioneers' Cemetery. Scan the audio tour and walk through the grounds whilst uncovering the stories of Wollondilly's first Pioneers.

7. George IV Inn

One of Australia's oldest pubs built by convict labour in 1835, it now includes Georgian, Edwardian and Art Deco architecture. During restoration work in 2019, builders found shackles, old newspapers, and a previously unknown convict hold hidden beneath the floor since the mid-1800s which is now visible through the glass floor in the main bar area.

8. The Mushroom Tunnel

Formally known as the Redbank Range Railway tunnel, this was the very first tunnel used by NSW Railways. The structure is a fine example of 1800s stonemasonry and design. The Mushroom tunnel is one of the few remaining structures of the Great Southern Railway which was used for defence storage during World War II.

9. NSW Rail Museum

The NSW Rail Museum is home to Australia's largest collection of rolling stock, including over 100 locomotives associated with the history of railways in New South Wales. The Museum also offers the opportunity to ride aboard a steam, heritage or diesel locomotive, depending on the season, and experience the incredible historic rolling stock first hand.

10. St Matthew's Anglican Church

Said to be the oldest timber slab building in the Southern hemisphere, St Matthew's still conducts church services today. Believed to have been built in late 1838, using locally sourced timber felled by convicts, the church was constructed using a traditional building technique of the pioneers called drop-log.

11. Wollondilly Heritage Centre & Museum

The Wollondilly Heritage Centre & Museum houses an award-winning collection and display of significant items that tell the story of settlement in the region. It includes an original timber slab cottage showing how early pioneers lived, a functioning blacksmith, the Drill Hall commemorating locals who went to war in Gallipoli, Palestine and France, farm equipment and extensive collections on coal mining and the indigenous history of the Gundungurra people.

12. St James Menangle Anglican Church

Servicing the quaint town of Menangle since 1876, the ornate St James Anglican Church is one of the regions most grandiose churches.

DILLY MURALS

Paint the Town is the brainchild of Wollondilly based street artist Joe Quilter, who brought his dream of a street art festival to Southern Tableland Arts and made it a reality.

Wollondilly's Paint the Town murals are all inspired by workshops held with fire affected Wollondilly community members who shared their experiences of loss, pain, hope and resilience after the Black Summer Fires.

A collective of renowned street artists jumped on board and translated the community's experiences and emotions into unique murals on laneways, buildings, cafes and more.

About me

I grew up in between Australia (where I was born), the United States and New Zealand, both on a farm and in the city. Professionally my qualifications are in Philosophy and Fine Art with Honours in Conflict and Dispute Resolution. I also hold a Masters of Professional Ethics and a Masters of Research and am currently undertaking my PhD in the relationships between graffiti art, street art and fine art. I am foremost a professional visual artist with an interest in academic research and teaching, my PhD is practice led by my art work and occasionally I teach units in applied ethics, cultural studies and aesthetics. I love basketball and have both played and coached the men's Wollondilly Razorbacks squad. Currently I am progressing in Brazilian Jiu Jitsu and Shaolin Martial Arts. I am married with three children and live in Tahmoor.

About Joe Quilter Art

My business is in visual arts where I paint murals and canvases by commission and exhibit from time to time. I started my business while I was still doing my undergraduate studies back in 2000 and have received steady commissions since then. I also enjoy being involved in community projects particularly ones which support vulnerable community members. I have done volunteer and paid work on the side across a range of community support sectors such as domestic and community violence prevention, refugee and migrant support, autism and in the indigenous community. My work has evolved naturally over time, my various interests have synthesised and deepened in the quality and scope of my work. I enjoy painting ethically themed art works that raise awareness around community themed moral issues, and my primary sense of achievement in doing so is inspiring positive change.

I credit the success of my business to my patrons and community appreciation for arts and culture, and especially my wife Jessica who is my greatest muse and supporter whilst keeping me organised and focused.

My inspiration

My inspiration for my own aesthetic narrative comes from the often-concealed emotional lives of individuals encountered in the day-to-day. People tend to inhibit their true feelings to fit in or function in society, but it is those deeper, truer feelings that intrigue and inspire me.

Why Wollondilly?

Each Dilly town brings something unique to Wollondilly overall but collectively as a shire the Dilly's natural beauty and down to earth people are in my opinion what makes living here great.

A must see or do in the Dilly?

A must see in the Dilly is the series of murals we have produced so far for Paint the Town, but places like Picton Social in Picton, Crispy's Take Away in Thirlmere, Wollondilly Meats Tahmoor and Pheasants Nest Produce are places I tend to frequent. Art Fixation is a great addition to the shire also, and you can't go past Berrylicious Strawberry Farm, The Australian Wildlife Sanctuary in Bargo and Thirlmere Lakes. More often than not, you'll generally find me at the Wollondilly Leisure Centre shifting between the gym and the basketball courts there.

Proudest accomplishment?

Proudest accomplishment is having a family. And while they are not an accomplishment in the sense that they are not a personal or professional achievement, watching my children grow to become kind, hardworking individuals means everything to me.

About me

I am the founder of The Bathhouse located in Douglas Park. I live locally in Menangle and I also own a day spa in Camden (Eden Spa). I have 2 beautiful children and the most supportive husband who is always on board with my crazy business ideas. I wouldn't be where I am today without him! Growing up, I always struggled in the workplace and found it hard to find supportive mentors. My number one goal when creating these businesses was to ensure that my team had a supportive mentor and a welcoming environment.

About The Bathhouse

The Bathhouse is a Palm Springs inspired day spa located in Douglas Park situated on 1/2 an acre. The concept of The Bathhouse was created during the pandemic as people were restricted to travel. I wanted to create an atmosphere where clients felt like they were on holidays. The Bathhouse opened in February 2022 and has been thriving since we opened our doors with our clients tracing from all areas across NSW, including Canberra, South Coast and Sydney CBD.

During a visit to The Bathhouse, there are a number of amazing facilities to enjoy which include 3 hydrotherapy spas, sauna, steam room and heated magnesium plunge pool. Our guests can also enjoy a number of treatments including float therapy, vichy showers (full body scrub & wrap) massages and facials.

Our most favourite thing about the bathhouse is the VIBE! Bright colours and a team of passionate therapists ensure every client has the most amazing experience. We wanted to create a space different to your mainstream day spa, we wanted a space that was upbeat and vibrant where clients can let their hair down and have some fun!

We have been lucky to host quite a few social media influencers along with Jules & Cameron from Married at First Sight.

Why Wollondilly?

I have lived in Menangle for a long time now and absolutely love the area. The very first time I drove through Menangle, I fell in love. The sun was shining and the properties all had beautiful green grass, I just remember that feeling of happiness I felt. Not to mention the beautiful community I have grown to love throughout the years of living here. A seven-minute drive to work also gives me more flexibility to pop home and visit the kids and fur babies.

Douglas Park was selected for the location of The Bathhouse as there is so much growth and development in the area. We also wanted a location that is a nice drive and away from the hustle and busy city living.

Go to businesses in the Dilly

Since opening The Bathhouse I visit Lucy's Café to enjoy her delicious sweets.... her lemon tarts and cannoli are amazing!

I also absolutely love visiting Porter & Hudson in Picton. They have the most beautiful flowers and Beck the owner, has such a beautiful soul!

Fun facts about me

My first job was as a check out chick at Woolworths and my favourite beauty product is the Dr Spiller Sanvita Cream! Dr Spiller products are so hydrating and work with the skin's natural layers to provide long lasting hydration.

1. Picton Botanic Gardens

Explore 6km of walking and cycling track, use the free BBQs, enjoy the kids' playground, meander through the native flora. The picturesque Picton Botanic Gardens is a favourite location amongst locals for taking a walk, picnic or a relaxing break at any time of the day. Look out for the three native bee bells hanging among the pine trees, and feel free to join in the Park Run event here every Saturday morning.

2. Potholes Loop Walk

Walk or hike through native bushland on this 8.3km out-and-back trail from Bargo River to Bargo River Reserve. Generally considered a moderately challenging route, it takes an average of 2 hours and 10 minutes to complete. It is not recommended you swim as the river can be dangerous in some locations due to debris from flood events and safety access can be restricted.

3. Bargo Railway Viaduct

Five arches cross a stunning and peaceful pocket of nature in the perfect spot for a walk, exploring, or picnicking. The Bargo Railway Viaduct, completed in 1919, makes this a spectacular place to put on your joggers, grab your camera and walk amongst Mother Nature at the Bargo River State Conservation Area where you can find a number of significant species of native flora and fauna, some of which are rare and endangered. The short walking track leads from the picnic area to a sandstone cave through which a stream runs, exiting into a shallow gorge surrounded by a stunning rainforest.

4. Australian Wildlife Sanctuary

Discover your wild side at the Australian Wildlife Sanctuary where you will meet, cuddle and feed some of the residents. See the Bare-Nosed Wombat, Long-Neck Turtle, Emu, wallabies and more! An exclusive private experience will take you on a full tour of the Sanctuary where you will see first-hand all the amazing work the Sanctuary undertakes. Book online to visit.

5. Bargo Dingo Sanctuary

Home to over 30 friendly Australian dingoes, the sanctuary is in a magical woodland and garden of native Australian plants. Be accompanied around the facility by knowledgeable volunteers for a hands-on introduction and cuddle session with the dingoes.

6. Thirlmere Lakes National Park (and Cowidjah)

Thought to be 15 million years old, the reed-fringed Thirlmere Lakes are a birdwatcher's paradise for spotting some shy species. A walking track covers 6km around three of the lakes that are part of a large group of waterways in the Greater Blue Mountains World Heritage Area. Bring your canoe for a peaceful paddle on the open water or your mountain bike to explore the trails.

7. Burragorang Lookout

Take in the fabulous lookout around the valley that provides 80 per cent of Sydney's water supply. Sitting high above the valley, from Burragorang lookout you can see the Greater Blue Mountains World Heritage Area, the Kanangra-Boyd National Park and the upper reaches of the expansive Warragamba Dam. There's also free BBQs, a kids' playground, excellent bike riding tracks along quiet sealed roads and an abundance of flora and fauna.

8. Warragamba Dam & Visitor Centre

This magnificent Dam is a major engineering feat of the mid-20th Century and one of the largest domestic water supply dams in the world. Four times the size of Sydney Harbour, Warragamba Dam's lake stores around 80 percent of Sydney's water. There are a number of places to walk, enjoy a picnic with free BBQs and admire the peacefulness of Lake Burragorang from the viewing platforms.

Richard & Patricia

About us

Richard: My background is in Mechanical Engineering associated with the design and manufacture of special purpose machinery, equipment and manufacturing plant. During this time, we planted some vines as a hobby on our property at Menangle. This hobby got out-of-hand and the rest is history!

My interests include the restoration of classic cars, camping, fishing and exploring outback Australia.

Patricia: I worked in education prior to retiring and becoming involved in Razorback Ridge Wines. My hobbies include yoga, singing in a choir, gardening and also exploring outback Australia.

About Razorback Ridge Wines

Razorback Ridge Wines is a small family run business. We planted our first vines in 2000 at Menangle and initially it was intended to be a hobby BUT... ideas grew and here we are now with a 10-acre vineyard, a winery, a winemaking degree and a cellar door! It has been hands on for us all of the way with the planting, picking and pruning of the grapes in the vineyard through to winemaking and marketing.

This was a totally new venture in every respect, and we love it. We have met many wonderful people, have learned so much, get to work outdoors and all whilst living and working in a beautiful environment. Ten years ago, we opened our cellar door.

Over the years our wine making skills and knowledge have grown, and of course our wine quality has improved and as a result, we have received several silver and bronze medals for our wines at the South Coast Wine Show, where coastal wineries from Newcastle right down to the Victorian boarder are represented, with between 150 to 200 entries. We have come close to getting that elusive gold medal and are still aiming to get there!

To the best of our knowledge, we are one of only two remaining fully functioning family run wineries in the greater Sydney region. We offer hand crafted wines produced on-site from estate-grown grapes.

Aspirations for the future

The aspirations that come readily to mind are the production of fortified wines such as Port and Muscat, the planting of alternate varieties particularly from Spain and Italy that are suited to our warmer climate and expansion of our cellar door operations.

Favourite Dilly town

Picton would be our favourite Dilly town. It has a unique old-world charm combined with a strong underlying sense of community. There is also a wide range of speciality shops and eateries creating a great atmosphere.

A must see in the Dilly

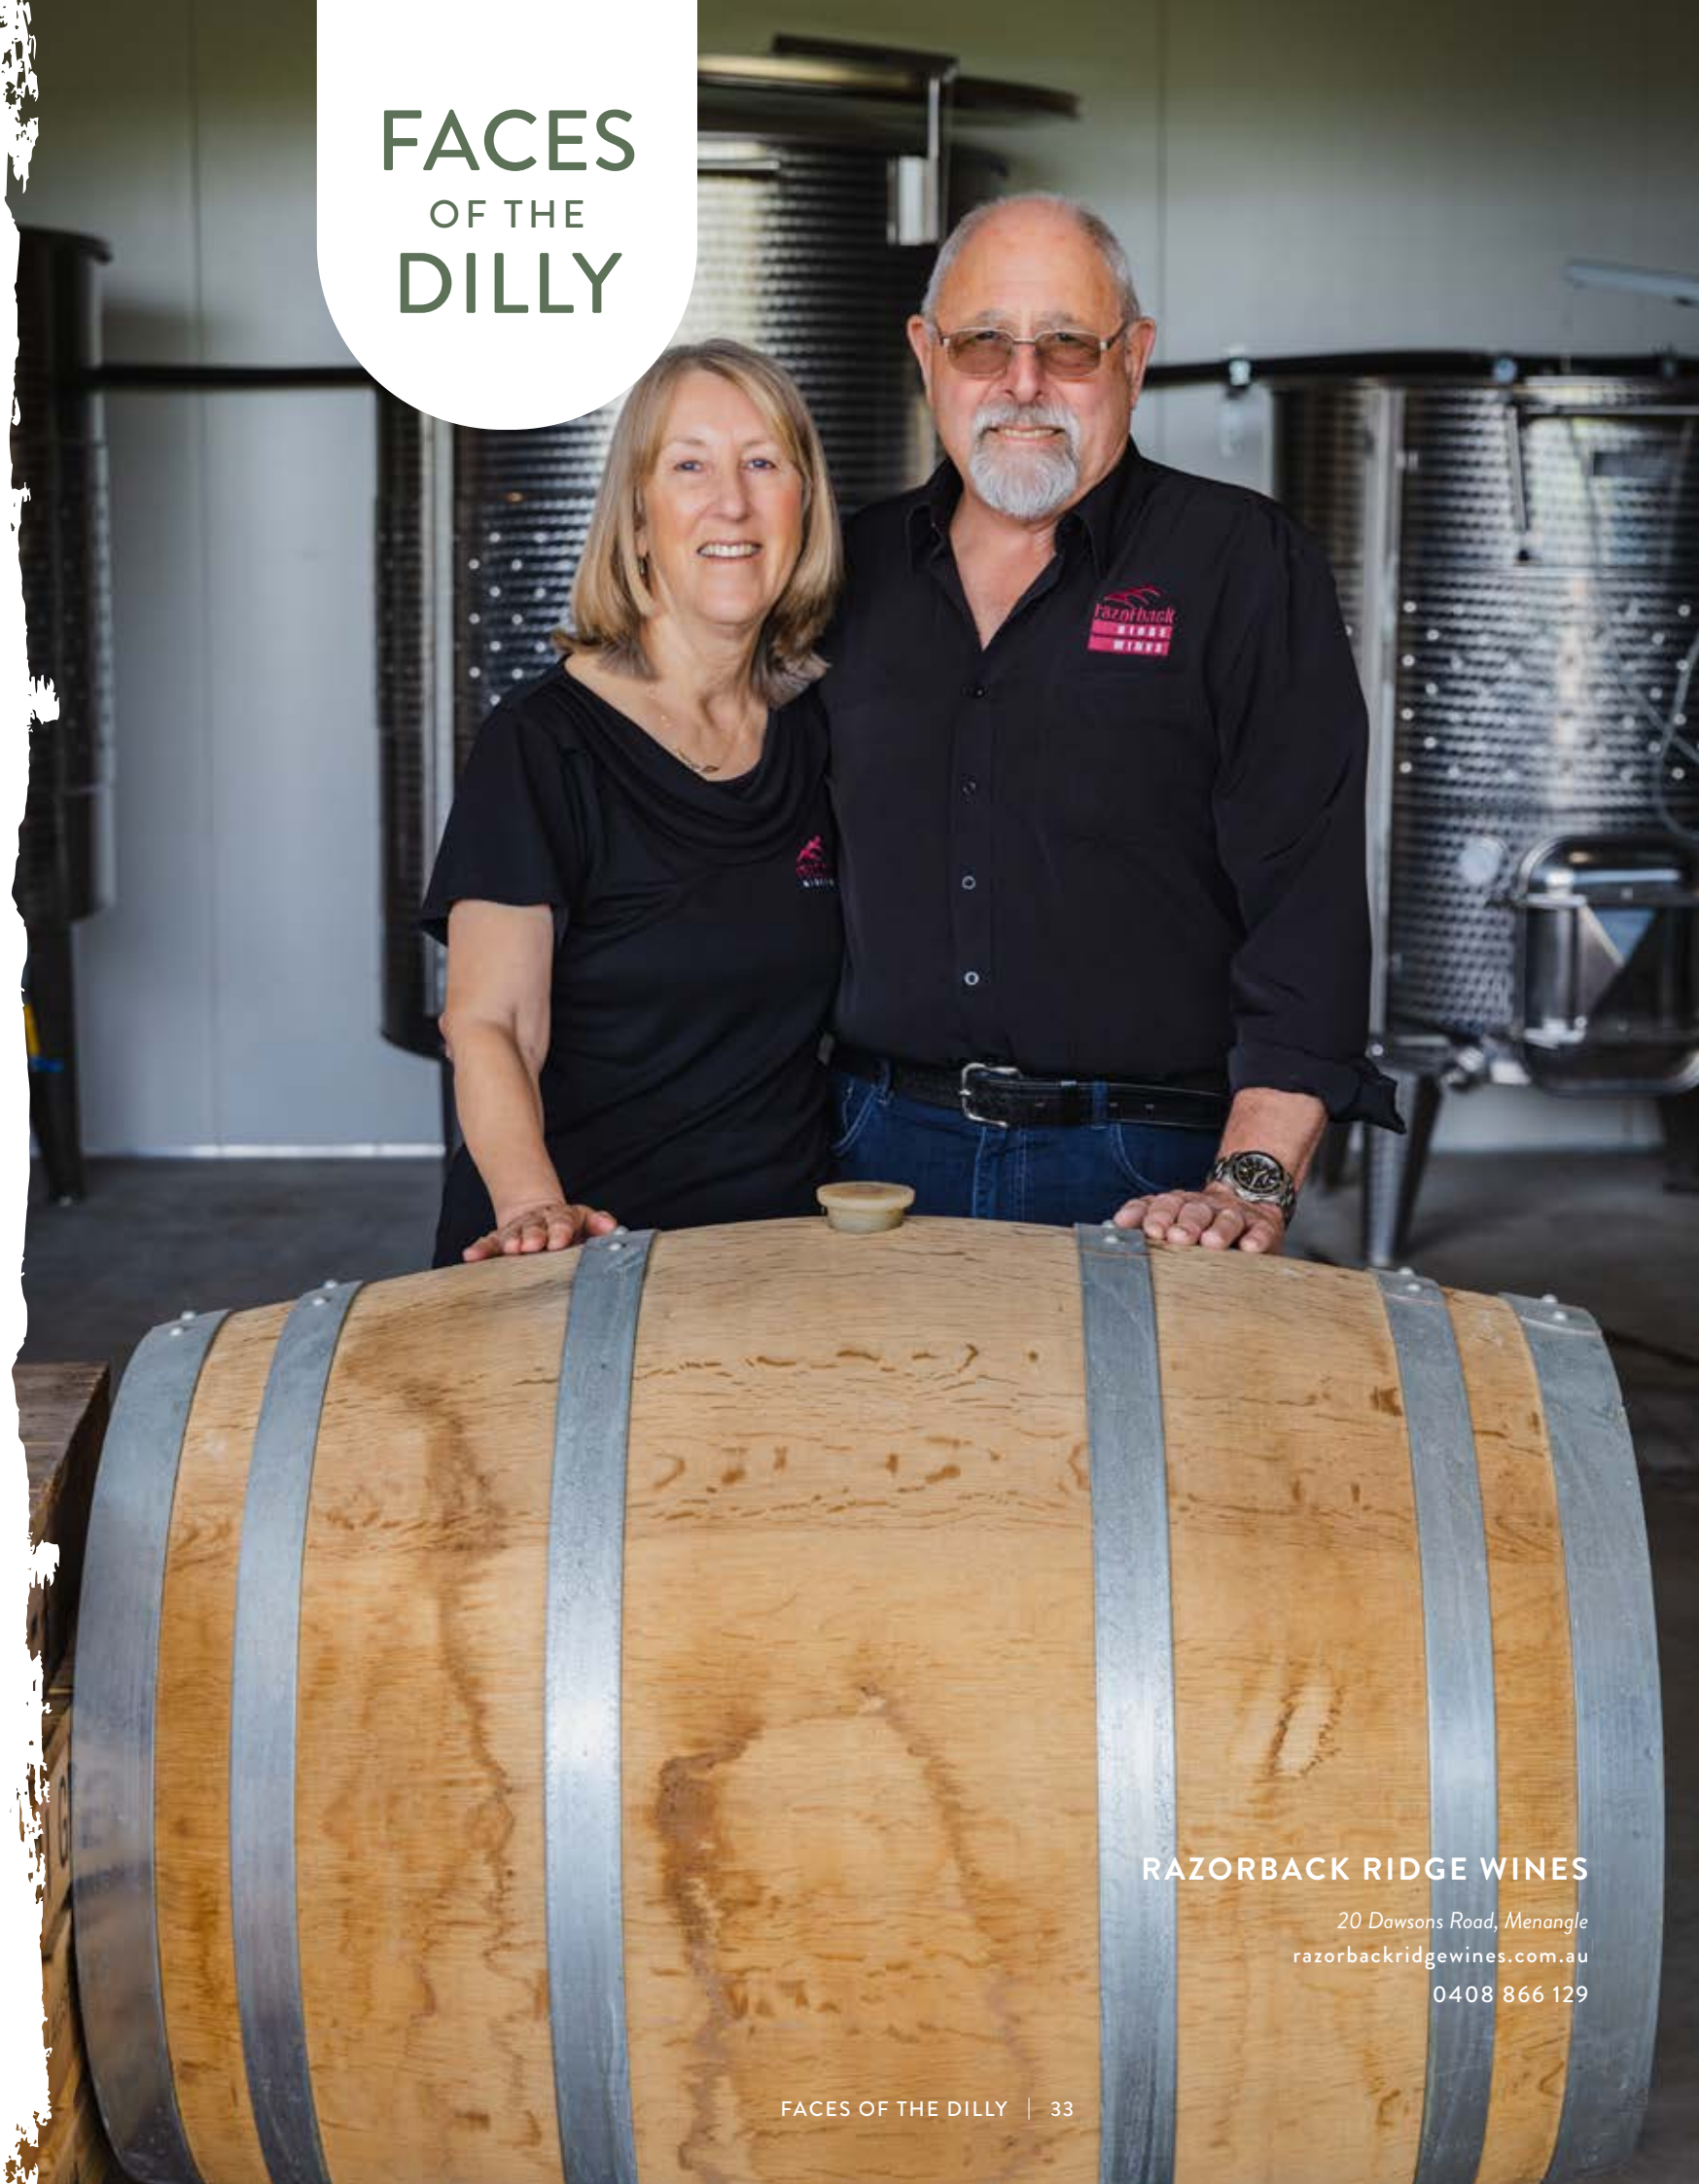

We are spoilt for choice with a diverse range of things to do and see in Wollondilly. Among the highlights are the NSW Rail Museum in Thirlmere, Thirlmere Lakes, the Australian Wildlife Sanctuary at Bargo, Mowbray Park Farmstay, the Picton Botanic Gardens and a myriad of beautiful walking trails across the shire.

Favourite coffee spot

Menangle Store serves a great brew and a tempting selection of treats in an historic, rustic, peaceful setting.

Anthony Penna

About me

I am Anthony Penna the owner of Pietro Italian Restaurant. I am 44 years young and love my family, food, cool cars and music. You will hear me rocking some country music on a Saturday night from 7:30 at our restaurant, but I love all music from metal and classic rock to high energy dance.

Professionally, I have a history in motorsport and mining transport, my previous business was Select Quarry Materials in which I was one of 3 directors who ran one of the largest independently owned quarry material reselling companies in Sydney, I remained in that industry for near 22 years.

About Pietro Italian Restaurant

Pietro Italian Restaurant is a place where you come and enjoy authentic Southern Italian style cooking in a chilled but fun environment catering for guests at the restaurant and private functions. We have capacity to seat up to 110 people comfortably.

Established as Pietro Ristorante Italiano 12 or so years ago under previous management of Peter (Pietro), I purchased the business in July 2021 with the dream to continue the great food and bring new love and energy to the restaurant. July 2021 was one of the toughest economic times for hospitality and we rebranded to Pietro Italian Restaurant, gave the building a fresh look inside and continued to build to the restaurant we have today. We kept Pietro as a business name, out of respect to the previous owner and what he had accomplished prior to our taking over.

In 2022 we were honoured to be awarded Outstanding Restaurant at the Wollondilly Local Business Awards. This award cemented the fact that our vision for great food and a welcoming environment for locals and visitors is on track.

Favourite recipe

Roast pork-loin roll with roasted vegetables, Peperonata and pasta Aglio e olio.

Why Warragamba?

I love Warragamba and have so many childhood memories here. As a kid our family would drive from the Fairfield area to enjoy family picnics at the iconic Warragamba Dam, just thinking about it brings so many happy times flooding back. If you haven't seen Warragamba Dam, it is a must see for locals and out of towners, but in saying this if you jump in your car and explore Wollondilly you will find many beautiful places to stop, relax and support local businesses.

Now, being local to the Warragamba area, I understand how the area is enriched with so much of Sydney's history, it is an iconic Wollondilly town.

I always wanted to open a venue in Warragamba. I see Warragamba as such a beautiful little town with so much potential, so when I was offered to purchase one of my favourites established restaurants, I jumped at the opportunity.

Dilly favourites

When not eating and drinking from my own restaurant I enjoy a coffee from Horse and Harpy on Silverdale Road, Silverdale. I pay many visits to Ambrosia in Silverdale, where we pick up fresh produce for use in our kitchen. Stavros (Steve) and Dawn, along with brother Andrew have always treated me like family.

My first job

I grew up watching Smokey and the Bandit, eating my mother's home cooking and hoping to one day own my own trucks. I eventually did own trucks and now I am proud to own an Italian Restaurant to continue sharing the Italian food my mother taught me. My very first job however, was working at my parent's general store in Rossmore.

Ingrid & John

About us

Ingrid: I am the owner of Jonima Flowers with my husband John. Prior to marrying John I worked in finance in Sydney. We decided to have a tree change when our family was small and this is where we landed. When I was young I aspired to be a fashion designer and my first job was working in a local chemist.

John: I am a third-generation flower grower. I started working on my family flower farm at a very young age. I decided to branch out on my own to create what we have today at Yanderra – Jonima flowers. We are proud to have built a business that the next generation are interested in and want to be part of.

About Jonima

We are both the owners of Jonima flowers, we are a small family business specialising in cut flowers. We grow up to 100 different flowers and foliage. We began 17 years ago and have evolved over that period of time. In the beginning we focussed on selling cut flowers wholesale and now have moved into retail by selling at farmers' markets, opening the farm flower shed from Monday to Friday and also providing an online flower store for the local area.

We enjoy the challenges of growing a beautiful product, where each day is different to the next. Being surrounded by nature and its change of seasons, being able to work and be with family and interact directly with community and seeing the joy our product brings to people is a bonus.

Why is Jonima Flowers successful?

We work together as a family to showcase the best of local and seasonality. We are also very passionate about supporting local farmers and making conscious, environmentally sustainable decisions in our farming practices.

We minimise the challenges of the business by being flexible and adaptable to challenges that are thrown our way.

Our goal is to evolve our business to not only grow flowers but also to educate people on the process.

Why Yanderra?

Yanderra is a small local village that was also easily accessible to Sydney, the South Coast and Canberra. The climate was important for flower growing, it is cooler than Sydney, however being on the foothills of the Southern Highlands not as cold allowing us to grow for longer seasons.

Favourite Dilly town

Our favourite Dilly town would have to be my hometown of Bargo. Bargo still has that country feel, is a small community, but still has all the facilities you need close at hand. I also enjoy picking up my morning coffee and also some sweets from Bean2Bargo and Pheasants Nest Produce is only a short trip to pick up my favourite fresh produce and baked goods.

A must see in the Dilly?

We love Burragarang Lookout. Any day trip through the Wollondilly brings a connection to nature and the great outdoors.

Marjo Hallowell

Affectionately known as 'Marjo from Bargo', Marjo Hallowell is a community stalwart who volunteers on many community-led organisations, raises money for research and is an all-round great asset to Wollondilly. Marjo holds a wealth of very deserving accolades including Wollondilly Citizen of the Year in 2022, Inaugural Wollondilly Women in Excellence Awards Patron and Wollondilly Woman of the Year 2020, just to name a few.

We caught up with Marjo to find out a bit more about her and the book she recently published.

Tell us a bit about yourself?

I am someone who can't stay still. I was born in the Netherlands and came to Australia in 1954. My family moved to Mt Canobolas and Borenore. We then moved to the Riverina followed by the Gold Coast. I moved down to Sydney and bought a unit at Warwick Farm before moving to Bargo. I worked numerous jobs from the NAB, vegie picking to cleaning and then, once my children all started school, I worked as a journalist for over 25 years. This suited my nature because I always want to know what is happening around me (I'm really just a 'sticky beak'). I moved to Bargo over 40 years ago to ensure my children had room to move and grow.

Tell us about the book you have written.

Bargo – Two Hundred Years in the Making was released in November 2022 to commemorate the bicentenary of the first land grants in Bargo. It has been a work involving many more people than just myself, as I considered it to be a project by the people of Bargo about Bargo, past and present.

I got serious about this in June 2021 when I was at a talk at the Picton & District Historical and Family History Society Inc. I told them I had been sourcing information over many years and they pointed out that 2022 was the bicentenary year so suggested that it would be a good deadline to set. The book does not only highlight historical aspects of Bargo, but also what is happening around town today.

Don't be shy tell us about your volunteer roles

There have been too many to list, suffice to say, I started volunteering when still at school (over 60 years ago). My most memorable volunteer role would probably be the Founding President of the Southern Highlands Photographic Society and being the Charter Secretary of the Tain Rotary Club in Scotland in 2010.

I have supported the CMRI (Children's Medical Research Institute) since 2017 with the Great Cycle Challenge and this is memorable in that my three grandsons, Eddie 9, Doug 7 and Hugh 5 have also been supporting this cause for 4 and 5 years, instilling in them the importance of helping others. We ride the streets locally and I am always extremely grateful for the sponsorships received from the local community.

I have volunteered wherever needed and available as I appreciate that 'many hands make light work'.

What is a must see in the Dilly?

The Dams in Bargo, Avon and Nepean as they are architectural classics. Warragamba, Cataract and Cordeaux Dams are also worth a visit. The Australian Wildlife Sanctuary has grown like a phoenix after the bushfires and has great plans for the future. The NSW Rail Museum at Thirlmere and the township of Picton are also just a few of the places I would recommend to visitors.

What is something most people wouldn't know about you?

I travelled at over 100mph on the world's longest / fastest zipline, I have abseiled down a castle turret, I have climbed Ben Nevis (Scotland's highest mountain), I shaved my head three times, raising $20,000 in total for different charities. The last was when Ronn Moss from The Bold and the Beautiful and Angela Bishop shaved it live on Studio 10. I have also ridden many kms and raised money for the Children's Medical Research Institute. Our team – Awesome Kids4Kids have raised over $25,000 and plan to continue this for a few years to come.

Patricia & Stephen

About us

Patricia: I grew up in Bellingen NSW and am a mother to four children and late husband Ernie Ring. I am the former owner of Jostelin Farm childcare centre. I have and adore my 6 and half grandchildren (one on the way).

Stephen: I love being active, riding motorbikes, skiing and architecture. I came to help Mum with Appin House around 2014 with the passing of dad. I adore my partner Monique and am a Dad to my daughter Sophie, stepdaughter Olivia, new baby due in April.

About Appin House Weddings and Events & Wildgum Café

The land was purchased in 1996 and Appin House Weddings and Events was opened in 2002. Built by our late husband and father Ernie Ring, myself Patricia and with help from the children. Our family business has grown with success and popularity. Expansion has included an outdoor bar, outdoor covered areas and we continue to grow the landscaped gardens each year.

Two years ago, Wildgum Cafe started construction to expand the business, as we wanted to share the gardens and unique setting with the local and surrounding community and visitors. Besides being a Café, Wildgum is also available for intimate private events such as weddings, birthday parties and milestone events.

We run the business together sharing the roles of reception, kitchen, front of house, landscaping, designing and co-ordinating all events and running the Café. We recommend you pop into Wildgum Café and try our Hennessy coffee made by our lovely barista Stacey Anderson and our BLT or Gluten free chocolate chip cookies for something sweet.

Why Appin?

Patricia: Ernie and I craved the rural setting to fit the relaxed, country charm that we imagined for Appin House. Our family has spent the last 20 years getting to know Appin and its community. We enjoy working with local business and people to help keep the dream alive and this shows with the support we receive from family, friends and our lovely staff, many of which are local to Appin. Our staff are the heart and soul of Appin House and Wildgum Café.

Favourite Dilly business

Appin Homestay, Appin Bakery, Skippy's Take away and Red delicious Thai.

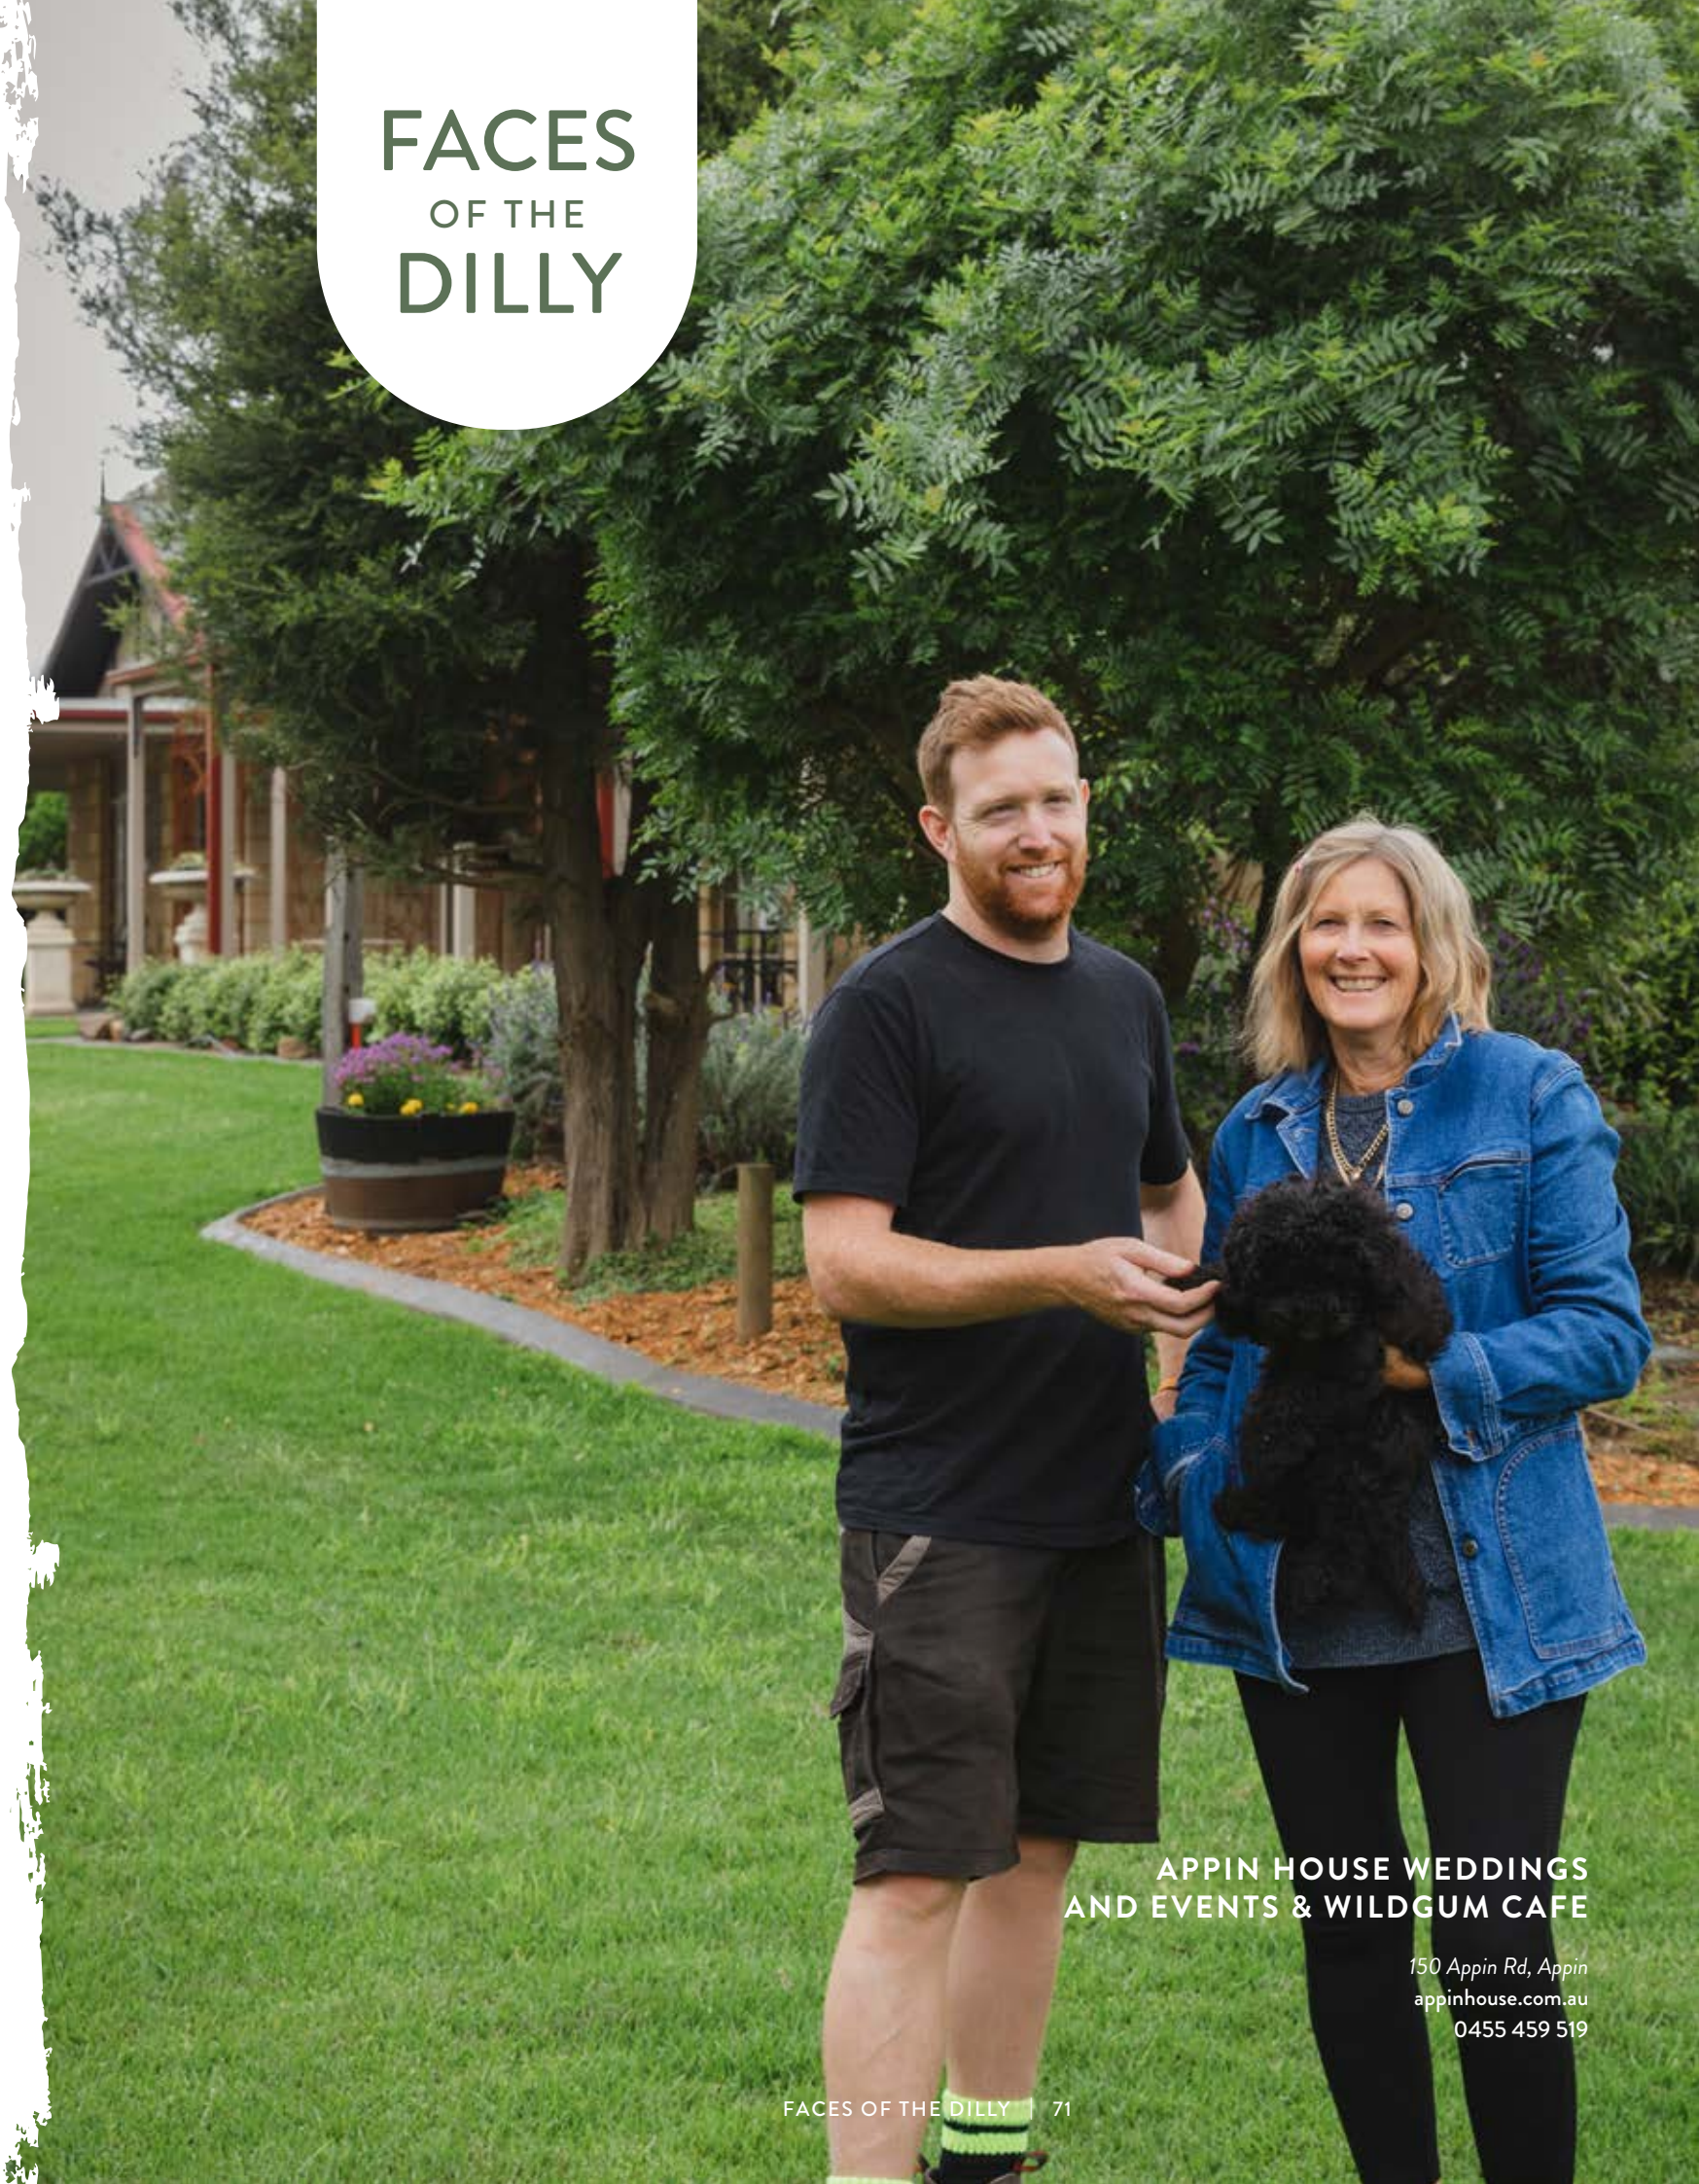

Most people wouldn't know that I...

Patricia: Love to travel, I am going to Antarctica next year.

Stephen: Was a ski instructor for 8 winter seasons back-to-back.
